LG Women File Fly Protests

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A handful of Lemon Grove women who don't like flies this week brought about the latest county attempt to regulate the cleanliness of chicken ranches.

As a result of protest from Mrs. Leo E. Custeau, 2317 Di Foss, Lemon Grove, supervisors Tuesday directed County Health Officer J. B. Askew to start meetings with county poultrymen on an ordinance to force regular cleaning of ranches when demanded by the health department.

Mrs. Custeau and a number of other housewives appeared before supervisors to protest flies from the Wyman chicken ranch in Lemon Grove. Mrs. Custeau told the board her doctor said there was a relationship between polio and flies, relating how the doctor thought a fourth shot of Salk vaccine against polio was necessary because her family lived where flies were prevalent. She also said the doctor said a fourth shot was not usually given.

TECH TRAINING OFFERED BRAIN

Harold H. Harding, director of the Electronic Technical Institute in San Diego, offered a nineteen months course valued at $1,580 to the student for whom we appealed to the public for a scholarship.

Said Harding in his offer, "In event he is not selected as candidate for scholarship for college it is our privilege to offer him one at our school."

"Attendance may be in the evening, five days a week and the course is for 19 months. It will qualify him for any field in electronics."

"Next class starts June 2 and this school will furnish all books and equipment. The course costs $1,580 but the boy you are selecting will receive all this free."

SCHOLARSHIP ASSURED; BOY TO GET SCHOOLING

Payoff on an editorial plea for a scholarship for an outstanding math student at Mt. Miguel high school came this week when the Lemon Grove Rotary Club underwrote the balance necessary to reach $1,200.

Harold Secor, club president said Monday noon that his club's board had agreed to complete the project which had the financial help and sympathy of several other Lemon Grove clubs and individuals.

Project started May 15 when this newspaper editorialized on the need for a scholarship for a Mt. Miguel student who is too shy to compete. School's principal, Mel Grant, told this news-

The Blinking Lights Are On

BEAUTY CLAIMS FOUL; 'HIDDEN CHARM' NOT SEEN

A "hidden charms suit" was threatened this week by a 19-year-old Lemon Grove beauty, Carol Wilson of 7872 Mt. Vernon street against Del Mar Fair, the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club and John Dail, the club's Fairfest of the Fair beauty contest chairman.

Miss Wilson told this newspaper the club and the judges disregarded the rules by which the competition was to have been conducted and the variance possibly cost her the local title.

Miss Wilson, shapely auburn-haired beauty who has won acclaim in several recent county beauty contests complained that officials of the competition held at a Kiwanis club meeting last week had instructed other contestants to wear street dresses and street shoes she says are form-revealing. She had not been notified of the change and she appeared in flouncy skirted formal in keeping with the printed rules which instruct the contestants to wear "short or long formal."

With some of her attributes hidden by a billowing skirt, Miss Wilson said judges gave the contest winner, Miss Marsha Gavett of 3058 South Bonita street, Spring Valley, five points more than herself on "figure." Miss Wilson claims she ran second in the contest by one point.

John Dail, Kiwanis contest chairman said Miss Wilson had obtained an entry blank the morning of the day of the competition and neither he nor other officials knew Miss Wilson was an entrant until she appeared at the contest. "We couldn't have notified her in advance," Dail explained.

William Arballo, superintendent of public relations for the Southern California exposition and the San Diego county fair said a study of the judging sheets indicates Miss Wilson would not have picked up enough points — even if she had received the maximum number for beauty of body features — to offset the deficit she had in the three other categories, which are beauty of face, poise and personality.

The judges were non-residents of Lemon Grove, Arballo also pointed out.

Politicos Gird For Vote Push

Area politicians were winding up extensive primary campaigns this week as they vied for votes in next Tuesday's run-off which will decide who will carry the party colors into the November fray. Most hotly contested local contest centered around the municipal court judgeship five race with Howard Muhleman picking up heavy support.

William Bill Shearer gained good last-week support from veterans and church groups as part of his vigorous campaign to unseat Incumbent Sheridan Hegland in the 77th district state assembly race.

State Senator Fred Kraft continues to hold his edge over two candidates for his office and appears to be a good bet to retain the seat which he has held 16 years.

Following are brief excerpts from statements released to this

Incorporation Award Set

Awarding of the $3,700 new Ford country sedan will be made Monday June 30 at a semi-annual chamber of commerce report of progress dinner. It was announced this week by chamber president Ernest Newton.

The dinner will be at Michael's and will be preceded by a no-host cocktail party.

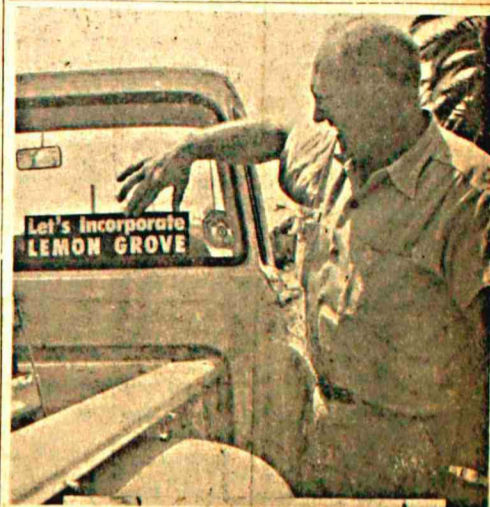

The action was approved by the chamber board, the chamber executive committee for incorporation and the finance committee.

The auto was originally scheduled to be awarded Memorial Day or as soon as 1,000 persons contributed $10 each to the cost of incorporation. Newton said making the award a part of the report dinner would heighten interest in chamber activities. The finance committee pointed out that regardless of the day of the award, not more than 1,000 contributions would be accepted. A run-down of contributions is expected to be given at this week's chamber meeting on Thursday noon at Michael's.

Traffic Hazards Mount On Holiday

Make traffic law obedience the first of your holiday driving plans says the California Highway Patrol.

"Holiday traffic hazards will present traffic problems this week-end, our first major holiday week-end of the year," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell.

Home Rule Petitions Get Boost

More than 800 Lemon Grove incorporation petitions have been signed, sealed, and delivered to campaign headquarters in enthusiastic early response to the drive to make Lemon Grove a general laws city, campaign directors said this week. Louella Fellows and H. E. LeBarron, co-chairmen of the chamber of commerce's civic committee of 1000, said initial reaction was overwhelmingly for incorporation.

Petitions thus far received exceeded the anticipation of the committee and amounts to about one-half of all petitions needed for formal presentation to the San Diego board of supervisors prior to August 20.

Final mailing of all petitions has now been completed. However, due to moving by owners from residence to residence it will require some searching before all property owners are finally contacted according to incorporation headquarters.

"A few property owners who own multiple lots or acreage may not get all their properties in one mailing," chairman LeBarron explained. "This is because these properties may be located in varying code areas," LeBarron said. It was pointed out all properties are not necessarily carried in the names of recent purchasers due to rules which allow for ownership record certain times of the year. "Where any questions on

School Board Okays Strips For Teachers

The Lemon Grove school board this week tentatively ok'd school personnel using bumper strips of political candidates on privately owned autos. The board at the same time agreed to ask county counsel on a legal ruling on the matter.

Two principals, Arthur Thomas of Monterey Heights school, and Robert Sutton, junior high school, asked the board to clarify a condition which resulted from school board president Frank Armstrong suggesting that such bumper strips might be in opposition to the education code. He said these men used their autos on school business during school hours.

The principals asked for board policy clarification to set limits relating to their rights as citizens.

Controversy concerned a political office for which school board president Armstrong is a candidate.

The board also set the estimated attendance for September 1958 at 3,700.

Doctor Takes Settlement

Top Honors Given Publisher For Community Service Job

Publisher Max Goodwin was honored for community service at the eighth annual press awards dinner at the La Jolla Beach and Tennis club last week when he was presented top award for a series of articles dealing with reduced hospital rates which appeared in this paper last year. Goodwin won honors for a series which called for reduced hospital rates for residents of the Grossmont hospital district. Goodwin also won third place in the Best News story division and youth service division.

The community service award was presented by the San Diego Union-Tribune publishing company.

About 100 newspaper publishers, press representatives and their wives attended the annual event. John H. McCoy, director of the journalism department of the University of Southern California, gave the principal address on "What About Public Relations?"

McCoy described the interdependence of journalism and public relations and also pointed to some of the problems encountered in a lack of or too aggressive program in public relations.

The Union's community service award went to The Review because of the success of this newspaper's protracted campaign for a reduction in hospital rates to residents of the hospital district. Publisher Goodwin emphasized in editorials, news and column comments that district residents paid regular hospital rates on top of bond interest and principal and he urged "a break" for those who supported the hospital through taxation. The Grossmont hospital district directors acceded to the newspaper's demands by granting a $2 a day credit on hospital bills incurred by district residents.

The Fallbrook Enterprise was second in the Union's contest for conducting a campaign in support of the United Fund, while the Chula Vista-National City Star News placed third for urging passage of water bonds for the county water authority's second aqueduct.

Other winners and runners-up were:

Fred W. Speers, editor and co-publisher of the Escondido Daily Times-Advocate, the Evening Tribune's Award for the Best News Story.

Wilbur Mackey, editor and publisher of The Fallbrook Enterprise, the Henry C. Reed Award for the Best Editorial.

Larry Freeman, former editor and co-publisher of the Chula Vista-National City Star News, the San Diego Public Relations Club's Award for Youth Service.

Don Lapham, editor The San Diego Citizen, the Breitbard Athletic Foundation's Award for Promotion of the Best Athletic Program.

New Doctor Opens Office

Dr. Robert D. Schrock osteopathic physician and surgeon, will open offices as a general practitioner at 3358 Main street, Lemon Grove, on June 2, it was announced this week.

Dr. Schrock, a graduate of the college of osteopathy in Los Angeles, received his bachelor of science degree from Stanford university in 1952. He interned at Hillside hospital in San Diego.

Dr. Schrock is married and has two children. His family will move to the Lemon Grove area some time in the near future, he said.

The offices will be open from 9 until 5 p.m., Dr. Schrock said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The school year is rapidly coming to a close and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the fine coverage you have given Lemon Grove Junior high school.

In these times when teen-agers, in general, are getting poor publicity, you have consistently supported and publicized the positive and good things that our youngsters are doing. Your coverage on the development of our Teen-Age Code, Science Fair, Public Schools Week, and other school activities is greatly appreciated.

I hope we will continue to have your support in the future.

Sincerely yours,

Robert E. Sutton,

HUFF 'N' PUFFERS

There will be an all-day family picnic May 30, Memorial Day, at Pair-A-Dice Hideaway near Guatay on Highway 80. Plans call for dancing, swimming, soft-ball, games for the kids and plenty of good eating for all.

Frank Dyson was club caller when the Huff 'N' Puffers danced May 16. Fay Miller was guest caller. Hosts and hostesses were Johnny and Edna Johnson and Jim and Bea Lagace.

A warm welcome was extended several new members; Bill and Genevieve Bennett, Don and Mariys Skinner, Ken and Valetta King, Russ and Marilyn Dowers, Tom and Mary Kay Essery, Ed and Jean Kitzel, Ernest and Jinny Weeks, Paul and Helen McAllister, and John and Dorothy Oelckres.

Tam and Sylvia Hodgson were guests.

PROMENADERS

Wednesday night of this week will be party night for the Promenaders. There will be fun for all, door prizes and others and lots of good home made strawberry shortcake.

Frank Dyson was club caller at the dance on May 21. He was assisted by guest caller Al Rider. Dixie and Tommy Thompson were listed as guests.

MERRY WHIRLERS

Two events for Merry Whirlers to keep in mind this week are: Boots and Bonnets coronation ball, Thurs., May 29 and Heartland Federation dance Saturday, May 31, both at the El Cajon armory.

Merry Whirlers will help host the Heartland dance and don't forget, Augie and Thelma Walton will be representing the club as nominees for king and queen of the coronation ball. Come out to the El Cajon armory and support your nominees.

Last Saturday's festive western roundup dance was a merry time for Merry Whirlers and cowpunchers from eight other clubs. A delicious chuck wagon banquet was served by Thelma Walton and her cowhands.

Special guests from out of town were Pete and Audrey Knoll, Cardiff; John and Audrey Beggs, Leucadia; and Dottie and Bob Boyd, Encinitas.

Callers for the evening were Wayne Ivey, Art Riding, Chuck Reynolds, Doc Graham, and our own Ron East.

Award winner was Bertha Galinas from the Promenaders. Other award winners were Jo Hurtz and Nat Bemis.

Two Whirler couples celebrated anniversaries Saturday night: Jessie and Bob Porter and Nell and Beau Bruggemann.

New Homes Ready For Inspection

Heartland area home seekers will be treated to a sneak preview Saturday and Sunday of Lemon Grove's newest subdivision, the Mount Vernon Estates, under construction at Washington street and Mount Vernon avenue, according to Binco builders of La Mesa.

The new development, which parallels Lemon Grove's proposed swimming pool site, comprises 25 three and four-bedroom modern dwellings under various stages of construction.

According to J. G. Binswanger, builder, local home viewers will be shown any of the finished or unfinished homes and selections can be made prior to completion of the tract and a planned formal opening next month.

"The new development will offer the home owner a variety of features and conveniences conducive to suburban living," Binswanger said.

"It's location is unexcelled," he said. "We chose to build in Lemon Grove because we found it to be a thriving community, offering more of everything for much less than any other community of its kind."

Ten Commandments Featured At Grove Next Week For Run

Cecil B. DeMille's production "The Ten Commandments," acclaimed by the nation's press, advance audiences and ministers of all faiths as an overwhelming motion picture experience and the all-time pinnacle of movie-making, will begin its local engagement June 4 at the Grove Theatre.

Ten years in the planning, three years in research, three years in writing and more than a year in the actual shooting, the masterwork of the screen's master showman is by far the biggest production in film history. Utilizing the talents of a massive cast of top stars and the best technicians the industry has to offer, the Paramount picture backgrounds an eternally dramatic and meaningful story with spectacle that has been called colossal in its scope.

Taxman Gives Roll Rundown

Wilbur Easton, county tax collector, made a full-fledged campaign talk Friday at the Lemon Grove Men's Club and reported his office had collected 98.7 per cent of all county taxes for one of the smallest delinquency ratios in the state.

One of the contributors to San Diego county tax payers' problems is that more than 50 per cent of all property is owned by government and is not on the tax rolls.

He also said his opponent is running on a "program of age." Easton said the inference is made he is too old-fashioned to run the office. "If it is old-fashioned to efficiently collect the monies due the county at the lowest cost possible, then the inference has meaning," he said.

The club will not meet this week due to the holiday, according to Bill Parker, Pactel&tel manager. Meetings will be resumed June 6 at noon at Michael's.

Installation Set Saturday For Daughters

The sixtieth installation of Bethel 60, La Mesa Job's Daughters will be Saturday, May 31, at 8 p.m. in the Masonic temple, Date and Orange, La Mesa. Virginia Sawyer, daughter of Lt. F. M. Sawyer, USN ret., and Mrs. Sawyer of La Mesa will be installed as honored queen of the Bethel.

Elected officers being installed with Miss Sawyer are: Dorothy Dobson, senior princess; Judy Stelskal, junior princess; Gerri Lynn Berg, guide; and Colette Driebber, marshal.

Appointed officers are: Joan Hancock, Wanda Cameron, Connie Napierki, Mary Sommer, Suzanne Ebright, Marjo Penry, Kathy

Virginia Sawyer

McNeil, Sharla Fitzenmeyer, Linda Schiefer, Janet Allison, Sandra Weir, Billie Jean Cameron, Marsha Mullin, Barbara Heath, Cindie Null, Pamela Medler, and Carole Jean Johnson.

Claire Smith, honored queen, will be installing officer, assisted Jimmy Turner as winning pitcher. There was a home run by Dean Brenner of the Orioles, and two great double plays; Kimball to Bobo, Hawks, and Bradley to Botzer, Orioles.

WHAT VOTERS SAY ABOUT SHEARER:

"Bill Shearer was raised in this area, where his Mother has taught school for many years. Through her he knows the needs of our schools. By living here, he understands the problems of our community."

J. William Clark, Spring Valley

"I have served with Bill Shearer on the Board of Directors of La Mesa Post 282, the American Legion. I admire him for his forthright support of the principles in which he believes. He is much interested in Legislation of the benefit to all veterans."

Johnny Johnson, La Mesa

"Over the years, I have watched Bill Shearer stand up and be counted against the political bosses of his own party when boss interests conflicted with the interests of the majority of the people. I am 100% for any man who will risk his own political future for a just cause."

LOMITA VILLAGE NOTES

by Edna Rice — HO 9-6832

Lomita Village comes of age. It is now about five years since the first houses were built on Cardiff street. Some of our Lomita first families moved in even before the gas and electric connections were hooked up. Bus service was not installed until some months later. Street lights were not installed until more than a year later. During the first years of the community's existence, all these Lomita ranch-style houses, in spite of individual differences in color and trimming, seemed dreadfully monotonous. But time has made the village a truly beautiful place. Pride of ownership has resulted in well-kept properties and improvements such as fences, patios and lath houses. The trees and shrubbery of the original landscaping have grown. Many trees, bushes, and vines have been planted since.

Lomita now has one of the finest elementary schools in the system, Audubon, under the administration of one of the most in Southern California, Dr. Terence Geddis. We have a first-rate, active, and enterprising P.T.A. We have a number of boy and girl scout troops and two active baton corps. Several fine new churches are on the outskirts of Lomita: Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church, Monterey Heights Baptist church, Lemon Grove Lutheran church, St. Philip's Episcopal church, First Baptist church of Encanto, and St. Rita's Roman Catholic church.

All these churches have special youth programs. Parents, we heartily urge you to see that your children attend the Sunday school and participate in the youth activities of the church of your choice. This is the best possible insurance you can take out against juvenile delinquency.

Your house and mine in Lomita way not be our dream houses, but it is still, even after five years, the best value money can buy in the San Diego area. And then, thrown in for free, we have this wonderful million-dollar view and the fine country air. We have a fine new park, all our own, Lomita park, being developed through the loving care of Harold Hansen. And with all our city conveniences, we are still definitely living in the country. Only the other day, your reporter saw a huge jack rabbit loping down busy Cardiff street.

LOMITA VILLAGE
Lomita welcomes the Glen Fletchers and son Gary to 312 Cardiff street. Fletcher is associated with the Nehl beverage company.

LOMITA VILLAGE
The speaker at the Audubon school assembly for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades was Edward Sanchez from Los Angeles, who gave a fascinating talk on how to build a telephone company.

LOMITA VILLAGE

What plants are now blooming in your patio or lath house? We hope you have at least a couple of the poor man's orchids, the ex-otice and striking-looking orchid cactus. Epiphyllum is the botanical name. Your reporter has several in bloom now. They are definitely cacti, although the blooms rival those of any real orchid.

The gamut of colors is lovely and arresting—from flame red, through the gradations of pink to lavender and purple; all the yellow and orange shades to a pale cream; and, of course, pure white. Some blossoms are as large as a pie plate; some are fragrant. Most nurseries carry a few varieties of orchid cactus. They are quite inexpensive and are wonderful to share. One little leaf develops quickly into a large new plant. And, best of all, they are no trouble to raise. A few years ago, there was little choice of color in the Epiphyllum. However, with hybridization, all the lovely new name varieties of many new shades have come into existence. The south end of the lath house seems to be the ideal spot.

LOMITA VILLAGE

There's a brand-new baby down on San Vincente street, at 8256. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Reber on the birth of their son, Jeffrey Allen.

LOMITA VILLAGE

We would like to correct a typographical error that appeared a week or so ago. Neighbor Nick Carter of 328 Cardiff street is retired chief of police of London, Ontario, which has a population of one hundred thousand. One little digit was left off.

LOMITA VILLAGE

Many of the villagers have been attending the exceptionally fine revival at the First Baptist church of Encanto. Chaplain Stanford Linzey of Uncle Sam's Navy and the Lord's army is the visiting evangelist in charge, and they say he has the situation well in hand. Chaplain Linzey, who is stationed at the naval training station, has held several pastorates in Southern California and is a graduate of the Baptist seminary at Covina. The Encanto Baptist church is praying for a spiritual awakening in our nation and our community.

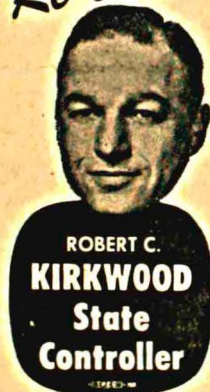

The ladies' missionary society has grown so large a third group, called the Jessamine circle, has been formed. The chairman of the Jessamine circle is Mrs. Edgar Misner.

The Encanto Baptists are planning recreational facilities for the youth, to be on church property. Plans are also in the making for a splendid program for the vacation bible school.

"FREEDOM"

On Friday we will go to the cemeteries to honor departed relatives and friends. We will be specifically mindful of those who gave their lives for our American freedom. Jesus Christ died and rose again in order that we might be free from dominion of the devil, sin and death. He died and rose again to liberate us from all fears and give us assurance of an indestructible kingdom in which all believers shall live forever under his righteous reign.

Awards for The Union, the Tribune and in honor of Henry C. Reed were made by Thomas A. Clarkson, vice president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce. President Frederick C. Whitney of the Public Relations Club made the presentation of the club's Youth Service award, while Robert Breitbard, president of the Brietbard Athletic Foundation, presented his organization's trophy.

President John W. Dunn of Palomar College served as master of ceremonies and interspersed presentations with personal observations of the value and power of the press.

Honored guests at the annual event included John B. Long, general manager and Richard Miller, assistant general manager, of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, and Mrs. Miller.

Judges of the contests were Howard Carroll, president of the Advertising and Sales Club; Herbert Fredman, past president of Sigma Delta Chi, and Whitney.

Scholarship Gained For Miguel Boy

paper the lad's brains would have a positive effect upon this nation's scientific future. His is a research personality and he will not compete with other students although he has already earned top math grades at State even while attending high school here. The boy's mother is a widow and he is faced with going to work at the end of this semester. Grant said there is a good chance this lad's formal education would end when he started to work.

The day after the newspaper was circulated came a letter from a San Diego architect, Herluf Brydegaard, who enclosed a check for $600 to cover half the cost of a $1,200 scholarship provided "the remaining $600 is raised in 14 days." The balance was raised in ten days.

Lemon Grove Optimist club, presided over by Don Wenzel, collected $18.50 among its members and then voted to make up the difference to round out a $100 contribution. Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland, a guest at the meeting contributed $10 as did Fred Brauer, a builder who is a member Optimist.

The Lion's club held an informal board meeting following the publishing of the story and voted $100 to the scholarship according to president Dr. Calvin Nicholl. The Lemon Grove Kiwanis club did likewise and requested to be notified should the fund fall short.

Oral Carpenter, local contractor who built Mt. Miguel high school and others, learned of the boy's plight at the Lemon Grove Rotary meeting and contributed $100 as a private contribution.

Commander (ret.) James (Pop) Yeo and Byron Netzel, both associated with the Lemon Grove school district contributed $5 and $10 respectively. Freeborn Cressy, vice president of the Kiwanis club and Dr. Frank Gigliotti, Kiwanis member, each gave $10. Lewis Smith, Grossmont high school district superintendent sent $20 to fatten the fund.

Bill Paul, manager of the U.S. National Bank said his institution, through a special scholarship fund would pick up the tab for that amount short of $1,200. The offer came as the Rotary club voted to do the same.

Totals:
Herluf Brydegaard	$600
Rotary Club	125
Kiwanis Club	100
Lions	100
Optimists	100
Oral Carpenter	100

Rattler Weapon Demonstrated

Shovel Wielders Hunt Snake Pits

Snake-hunting pappas are forming posses to seek out rattlers in their dens as a move towards combating the heavy influx of the lethal tail twisters, Dr. J. B. Askew, city-county health director said this week.

Residents, alarmed over a heavier than usual population of the unpopular snakes, are taking action to curb the weed wiggles. Dr. Askew suggests parents form groups to seek out the snakes in their homes whenever children report seeing the rattlers in the area or when snake attacks are reported.

Several snake bite cases have been treated by local area doctors, the health director reported. He attributed part of the heavier snake movement to disturbing of usual habitat by influx of building and road construction projects which have forced snakes to seek new homes.

The best weapon against the writhing rattlers is a long-handled garden shovel, Dr. Askew said. "The handle is long enough to afford a safe distance between the snake's striking force and the shovel wielder," he said.

Destroying small rodents such as moles and gophers is also recommended as a good method of depleting the present snake population in the area, Dr. Askew said. "The small rodents represent the main diet for rattlers and if they find slim pickings in your neighborhood they will either move on or starve," he said.

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley drug stores stock snake bite emergency kits and anti-venom medicine is available for administration by area doctors. The health officer recommends anyone planning to hike in weed-covered canyons or bush-filled back lots of the area be prepared by carrying a snake-bite emergency kit.

Unusually heavy rattler populations have been reported in the San Diego state college campus area and at some area golf courses.

Dr. Askew said his department has discussed the situation with Charles E. Shaw, curator of reptiles at the San Diego zoo. Shaw informed the department he believes there are no more rattlesnakes than usual this year but people are seeing more in new subdivision areas, Dr. Askew said.

He added that Shaw made the following points:

When humans build homes in snake country, they tend to think they're in civilization and get careless where they put their hands and feet.

Rattlers don't always rattle a warning before they strike.

Even baby rattlers are deadly. If you see a rattlesnake, move away slowly. Sudden movement may provoke the snake to strike. In the event of a rattlesnake bite, Dr. Askew gave this advice: If you are bitten by a rattler, be calm. Lie down if you can. Exertion spreads the venom. See a physician as soon as possible. For first aid apply a constricting band between the bite and the heart about two inches above the bite. Tighten it enough to cut off the pulse, then loosen it just enough to feel the pulse again. Loosen it for 20 seconds at 15-minute intervals and tighten again.

Cut an X just above each fang mark. The cuts should be half an inch long and a little less deep. Avoid blood vessels. If swelling progresses up the limb make additional cuts higher and move the band above the swelling.

Home Tour Planned By Area Auxiliary

A tour of Tijuana homes is planned by the women's committee of the San Diego symphony June 4. This is an event to raise money and is being widely supported by members of the Foot-hills' auxiliary to the San Diego symphony. Home Rule Petitions Get Boost these matters exists," Mrs. Fellows said, "we urge the owners to contract our campaign headquarters and confer with the petition teams which will be in the field soon."

This week's army of petitioners began calling on all local property owners for the completion of the petition signing. "When you are called on by our workers," the chairman stated, "we will appreciate your full cooperation in signing and delivering these petitions to our Lemon Grove workers."

Campaign leaders said the process of signing these formal petitions did not obligate the owners of property in any way. "All you will be doing," Bob Vaught stated, "is to ask the board of supervisors to hold a hearing and set an election date." Vaught is serving as general of the petition volunteers.

Analyzing the overall campaign picture to date, co-chairmen Fellows and LeBarron declared Lemon Grove sentiment is preponderantly for home rule and active participation in the current campaign by residents throughout the community is mounting daily.

After-Prom Draws Crowd

288 Mount Miguel seniors and dates attended the after-prom at the Lafayette hotel last Saturday a.m. from 1:30 until daylight. The party was given by senior parents for Mount Miguel's first graduating class.

A buffet breakfast was served at three a.m. and cokes were served throughout the party. More than 30 awards were given. Seniors and senior parents wish to thank the following firms and individuals who generously contributed to the prizes:

Lemon Grove Lions club for two $10.00 awards, George A. Scott of Walker-Scott Co., Sears Roebuck and Co., Marsi's, Lemon Grove Motors, Lemon Grove Hardware, Glen's Bicycle shop, Williams department store, Evelyn Wigton's, Lowe's Toggery, Lane's men's wear, Linda's, Marston's, Whitney's, Bob Coffman's, Highlander, Lemon Grove Department store and Marders Stationers.

Doctor Takes Settlement From Airline

American airlines last May.

In his complaint he said he was enroute New York to attend a medical convention when employees of the airlines became "loud, antagonistic and argumentative" when he resisted giving his seat to a Phoenix passenger. He claimed he had been assured a through trip without change when he purchased his ticket in San Diego.

According to the charges made by Dr. Chassy, airlines employees took his ticket into the airline's terminal in Phoenix and when he went to retrieve it they slammed the plane's door against him. Later they put him aboard another plane to New York over another route and to a different field. He arrived there only two hours late, he said.

Dr. Chassy said his suit was brought as a matter of principle because he did not feel the airlines was justified in taking the unreasonable action they did.

Local Beauty Search On

For the first time in the history of the world's most spectacular beauty contest, a Miss San Diego County will be selected next month to compete in the California foreign nations, will be selected Miss Universe beauty pageant at Long Beach, July 17-27.

San Diego county's entrant in the international beauty competition, which draws contestants from 48 states and more than 60 foreign nations, will be selected in semi-finals and finals to be staged at Westgate Park from June 10 through June 12.

The announcement said all San Diego county unmarried girls who have resided in the county for at least six months and are between the ages of 18 and 28, are eligible to compete in the Miss Universe preliminaries. No entry fee or commercial sponsorship is required, the announcement added. Entries must be submitted by 5 p.m., Friday, June 6. Official entry forms are available at this paper's offices, 7834 Lester avenue, Lemon Grove.

OFFICERS PLAN — Newly-elected officers of the Palm Avenue P-TA here plan projects for the coming year as they take over duties. The group is installed this week on Thursday at the school. Shown, seated from left, are Mrs. A. R. Detrez, first vice-president; Gerald Heath, president, and

Askew, who said the situation Mrs. Custeau protested had improved, also declared that no permanent change would be found until the county had an ordinance to enforce ranch cleanliness. "This is just another of the many complaints we get about flies," he said. "But we don't have enough manpower to control flies and we can't force ranchers to cooperate."

Declaring a ranch to be a health menace, Askew said, could force cooperation for two or three months, but then "it all happens all over again," he added.

In addition to the protests of the Lemon Grove women, supervisors had a letter from Dr. Morton N. Carlile, El Cajon, who also complained about the increase in flies. Dr. Carlile recommended weekly or semi-monthly inspection of dairies and chicken ranches during the fly season.

Askew asked for an ordinance which would give him authority to order any ranch to remove chicken manure from the premises once a week. Supervisors told him to begin to work out such an ordinance with representatives of chicken ranchers.

Mrs. Custeau asked that penalties for violations be included in the ordinance. She was told to watch her local newspaper for news on when a hearing would be held on the ordinance.

Rate Increase Meet Set For Next Week

The next session of the public utilities commission of California hearing on the application of the San Diego Gas & Electric company for an increase in electric gas and steam rates will be held June 4, 5, and 6 in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce building, 499 West Broadway, San Diego. The hearing will start at 1 p.m. on June 4.

Pool Fund Over Top For Land

Lemon Grove's community swimming pool facilities were at last assured a location this past weekend when the fourth annual swim fund parade and fiesta netted more than $3000 which will finish paying off the site cost and leave a nest egg for actual pool construction.

Dr. Robert F. Burns, president of the LG swimming pool association, said this week the two-day carnival brought in a total of $5209 and it is expected after expenses, the net will be on the sunny side of the $3000 mark.

A record turn-out greeted parade participants and fiesta workers.

Burns said the pool property will be paid off shortly and the balance of funds will be used to initiate the new account for the pool cost.

"We'd like to find a way to build the pool sooner," Burns said, "but we need a magic wand to raise all the needed money. Everyone cooperated in this year's big fund raising weekend and I'd like to express my appreciation for a job well done on all fronts," he said.

SERVICEMEN'S EXEMPTION

Nonresident soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen on military duty under orders in California are exempt from payment of registration fees on trailer coaches which are parked or used as residences, and which are not moved on the highways.

☆ Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "Unemployment insurance as such can only be preserved if it is strictly separated from relief. What we really need now is not to desert the insurance principle but to return to it more strictly. A big step in that direction might be to have workers themselves contribute directly to the premiums, as they have always done in Britain, and in our own Federal old-age insurance system."

New Field Dedication Draws Crowd

Lemon Grove's Little League park in Monterey Heights was dedicated Sunday with all the pomp and ceremony of a major league opening with six teams playing and impressive opening dedication ceremonies.

Awards were made to a number of individuals and firms who have contributed to the Little League welfare. A color guard presented the colors and teams, managers and sponsors were introduced to the bleacher-capacity crowd.

The field is enclosed by a junior size fence and features regulation-type dugouts for the teams and other real park facilities. Little League mothers painted the fence and other trim last week.

League standings following Sunday's special games show the Yankees still in front with seven wins against one loss. The Little League association will meet next Monday, June 2 at 8 p.m. at the San Miguel grade school.

Standings this week are:

Team	Won	Lost
Yankees	7	1
Dodgers	5	3
Indians	4	4
Braves	3	5
Tigers	3	5
Cubs	2	6

METHODISTS ADD SERVICE

Two Sunday worship services will be held at the Lemon Grove Methodist church beginning June 8, according to Don Cooke, pastor. Single service had been conducted prior to this. First service will be at 8:15, final service at 11 a.m. Church school will be conducted at 9:30. Child care is provided at all three functions.

BETTENCOURT IN PARADE

Frank J. Bettencourt of Lemon Grove will be a marshal in the tenth annual Coronado fourth of July parade, according to Cdr. Philip H. Denner, Jr., USN (ret.), parade co-ordinator.

DOCTORS, DENTISTS NURSES, DRUGGISTS ENDORSE HEGLAND

Pre-Holiday Hours Set

Jack W. Koop, manager of the Lemon Grove branch of the First National trust and savings bank, this week announced the local branch will stay open after regular closing hours Thursday evening because of the Memorial Day holiday Friday.

The local branch will remain open until 5:30 p.m.

Other banks in the area have indicated they too will remain open Thursday.

Koop said these longer hours would also be in effect on Thursday, July 3, which precedes Independence day.

The longer hours on Thursday will prove a benefit to employees of the aircraft plants and other firms who are being paid on Thursday, Koop added.

Proposition 6: Change deadline on reports on county vehicles from 5th to 15th?

Vote Yes

U.S. Post Office Department employees, presumably carried away by prospects of a raise in pay, are becoming too enthusiastic in their determination to "get the mail through" even if it is by way of Podunk.

A letter arriving here May 12 bearing a May 7 San Francisco postmark also bore the following travel legend.

Postmark—"San Francisco" "missent to Highland, California" "missent to Coronado, California" and finally, "missent to Apple Valley, California".

Try as they might the rest of the department couldn't keep the local boys from delivering the letter to us... but they apparently tried.

If you're statistical as well as political the following economic-electro information compiled by Mutual Newspaper Features will most certainly dazzle you right down to the lean drippin's.

Since 1913, say they, Democrats in Congress enacted 14 tax increases—the Republicans only one. And there have been ten tax cuts. Seven of these were sponsored by Republicans and only three by Democrats.

Edna Rice who conducts a column for this newspaper under the heading of Lomita Village Notes had a yarn some weeks ago that seems worthy of retelling.

A retired naval officer has a telephone number similar to the Dial-a-Prayer number. In the latter case a mechanical voice gives spiritual advice and comfort 24 hours a day. Drunks, with contriteness heightened by the dawn's early light, frequently fumble and get the retired captain's number. This leads to arguments because the penitent insists he has dialed properly. Such goings-on is not conducive to further sleep so the captain worked out a system. No argument, no nothing. He doesn't even fully wake up. When the phone jingles during the wee hours he lifts the receiver from the hook and says solemnly: "Sin no more."

Jim Spears tells of a couple who was visiting his place of business looking at new Fords.

"We don't have the money to buy a new car," the man's mate said.

"Why not set up a budget and buy it that way," Spears said helpfully.

"We have a budget now but it doesn't work so good. Instead of coming to the end of the month and having money left over, we come to the end of the money and have part of the month left over."

Totem Toted; Couple Mourn Lost Carving

"It's not the monetary value we are concerned about, but the sentimental value." So said Mrs. Oliver Nelson of 3611 South Bonita street, Casa de Oro, recently, after she and her husband Oliver had reported to sheriff's deputies that their prize possession, a hand-carved totem pole had been stolen from the front of the house.

The five foot pole, which Nelson had carved with a pen knife, over a period of a year, had been bolted down and put in concrete. The Nelsons had been bowling the night of May 19 and came home late. It wasn't until the next morning when he was watering the flowers that he missed the totem pole.

Nelson, who is a tree surgeon, does carving as a hobby. This particular totem pole he carved back in Alliance, Ohio, from a cedar tree he had cut down.

Mrs. Nelson is president of the Casa de Oro Civic Association.

newspaper from various candidates for office. In their own words mostly, here's how the office seekers sum up their drives. Elsewhere in this issue, in The Dimmer View by Max Goodwin, a complete list of candidates and offices is presented.

In a statement issued upon organization of the veterans committee for Shearer, John Johnson, La Mesa, said, "I have served with Bill Shearer on the board of directors of La Mesa Post 282 of the American Legion. I admire him for his forthright support of the principles in which he believes. He is much interested in legislation of benefit to all veterans."

Rev. Sherrel Hall of Del Mar, a member of the Christian leadership committee, said, "Bill Shearer represents to me an affirmative life which outwardly expresses an inward Christian faith."

Wilbur W. Easton, candidate for re-election to the county tax collector's office, recently gave this newspaper the following outline of his activities of 25 years service in the office.

Easton said, "25 years ago I started working in the county tax collector's office as a cashier. 11½ years later I qualified through civil service examination and was promoted to chief clerk. 4 years later I was appointed Chief Deputy—then six years later I was elected to the office of county tax collector."

In a talk before the San Diego county farm bureau recently Delmar Gray, retired Escondido school superintendent, rancher and civic leader, candidate for the nonpartisan office of city and county assessor, said, "My candidacy is based on principles of good government. Bigness and centralization go together. Of the 4000 San Diego county employees less than a dozen operating heads are elected. The power of the people in government is decreasing."

Frank Armstrong, candidate for judge of municipal court of office 5, traffic court, has announced he is basing his campaign on expediting the hearing of traffic cases so people who must appear in traffic court will not be unnecessarily delayed as to court trial if they desire to contest their case. He says he will see that the defendants who are not represented by counsel will be advised as to their legal rights. He believes the present operation of the traffic court can be greatly improved, particularly for the benefit of the people who appear in traffic court without being represented by an attorney and who represent a majority of the defendants.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Pat Brown, candidate for Governor, told nearly 1000 supporters at a dinner rally Tuesday night this week at Chula Vista recreational hall that "California has too many complex and compelling problems for public discussion this year to be sloganized into a single issue campaign, and I consider the labor discussion that has been raised an obvious attempt to do just that."

Spring Valley Girl Wins Contest

FAIREST—Finalists in the Lemon Grove Fairest of the Fair contest for the Southern California exposition and county fair at Del Mar were judged at the LG Kiwanis club meeting last week as a climax to this year's contest. A Spring Valley blue-eyed blonde, Marsha Gavett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gavett, 3058 S. Bonita road, was adjudged winner. Shown here receiving the winner's trophy from John Dail, Kiwanis club contest chairman, Miss Gavett will now vie with other county beauties for the top honors at the county fair finals. Finalists shown here, from left, are Carol Wilson, Miss Gavett, Dail, Nancy Holmes and Sylvia Sutorus.

Diego county recorder's office is second only to Los Angeles, according to the incumbent, Roger N. Howe. He is a candidate for re-election. He said the office has been modernized through installation of the most efficient equipment available, this being necessitated by the demands stemming from the county's great growth. "It will not be easy for us to catch up with the Russians in science education. We shall have to use better methods, longer hours, more equipment, new classrooms and smaller classes, and pay and train our teachers better," says Professor Holland Roberts of San Francisco, one of three opponents to the present state superintendent on the June 3 ballot.

George Christopher, Republican candidate for US senator, this week urged the election of a senator willing and able to serve more than one term.

☆ There are 4,100 independent telephone companies in this country—that is, companies which are not part of the Bell System. They serve some 11,000 communities, represent a plant investment of more than $2,700,000,000, and it is expected that they will have about 10 million phones in service by the end of this year.

HUSBAND HAS WORD ON RACES AS WIFE PREPARES FOR 'DAY'

by Bob Sanders

(Editor's Note: Bob Sanders, husband of Dottie Sanders of Lemon Grove, a co-pilot in the upcoming powder-puff derby, has a word to say herein on the big event and the details as viewed by a non-participant.)

In order to give you a worm's eye view of an all-woman's transcontinental air race imagine, if you can let your imagination run to that extreme, 200 women of all sizes, shapes and ages lined up and waiting for the starting gun that will allow them to roar into Lemon Grove for a bargain sale on a new $30 sack dress creation they can buy for 25 cents provided they win the race. Anyone would agree that would be a real hairy, scary sight and confusion would reign supreme.

Now, magnify this problem by making the prize $3000 and the purchase price $25, which is the entry fee. Also, put all the gals in airplanes, making the distance Montgomery field, San Diego to Charleston, South Carolina. Then your problems really start. Up to now, it's just been a breeze.

Here are some of the problems for that ever-lovin' hard-working, brain-wacked, brain-washed, frustrated bunch of gals who dedicate themselves to a job known as the air race board for the running of the annual race, commonly referred to in the vernacular of the news media as the powder puffers, or just plain puffers.

Now, puffers is a real good word, because if you only knew how all the gals in this annual affair work, plan and slave to get ready for and fly in the yearly big event, you would understand.

To get back to the problems of the air race board, however, here are a few of all of the details involved to get all the entrants signed up, and race numbers assigned; parking, inspecting and safeguarding 100 airplanes at Montgomery field; housing all the contestants for approximately five days before the start of the race; the big banquet where all the contestants let down their hair, blow off pre-race steam, and do all their hangar flying before the race; endless briefings and pilot meetings; meetings with civil aeronautics administration officials and weather bureau men; arranging a ham radio net for instant communications with the amateur radio people; finding airports strategically located across the nation where designated enroute stops can be made for fuel, repair, sleep and food can be found. Then, finally, the start of the race.

This is the culmination of all the activities in San Diego and where all the people of this area can really get a thrill in seeing around 200 gals in 100 airplanes going all-out in a mad scramble to win the big race.

The start of the race is open to the public, free of any charge and is scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday, July 4.

This little article started out as the worm's eye view and, of course, the worms are all the husbands and husbands-to-be of all the 200 gals. They sit at home and wonder about how the little woman is doing, how the little old crate is running, and how is the weather. All good, we hope.

Pamela Kay Sandling, 8 Succumbs To Illness

Pamela Kay Sandling, eight, died May 20 at the UCLA medical school hospital after an extended illness. Pamela was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sandling, 2348 DiFoss street, Lemon Grove.

Besides her parents, Pamela is survived by a brother, Craig, and a sister, Maureen McBride. Services are pending at Conrad Lemon Grove mortuary.

RC Manager Guest Speaker

Mark A. Thomas, San Diego county Red Cross chapter manager, will be guest speaker at the area branch election meeting June 5 at 9:30 a.m. in the La Mesa fine arts center. Mrs. Gladys Branigan, secretary, said this week.

The Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and La Mesa branch members will elect officers and there will be a display of garments and articles made by the branch production committee under direction of Mrs. J. A. Garber, Lemon Grove, chairman.

DOROTHY DIGS in the garden

NEMATODES
Nematodes are underground insects... a hidden menace. And about the only practical way for a layman to diagnose Nematode infestation is to pull up one or two of the sickly plants and look for tiny knot-like swellings on the tender fiber roots.

If you have any suspicion of Nematode infestation in your garden, have a definite diagnosis made by some competent person. Then if you do confront the problem, there is one of two things that you can do.

In unplanted areas, you should fumigate, although this operation will temporarily sterilize the soil.

In planted areas where you do not wish to remove the plants, treat the soil with copper-ether disinfectant or send for my bulletin on Nematodes and I will try to outline a treatment whereby you can keep the nematodes under control and maintain the health of the plants.

Monterey Heights Resident Sees Sights on Big Flight

Clyde S. Walker, 7687 Canton Heights, Monterey Heights, returned May 11 from a two-week tour with the naval air wing which took him to French Morocco and other points as part of a naval training program.

Walker, a civil service employee at North Island, is an aviation metalsmith, first class, in the naval air wing. He was flight orderly on the two-week trip which saw stop-overs at Newfoundland and the Azores before touching down at Port Lyautey in French Morocco.

The flight, aboard the navy version of a DC-4, logged a total of 18,456 miles for Walker and a total of 101 hours flight time. Walker was able to visit in Paris, Madrid, Spain and see the Rock of Gibraltar during his navy trip.

The flight was composed of three planes carrying 90 members of the wing, Walker reports. He said they could see rebel fighting forces massed near ridges when they visited at Casablanca.

Walker, glad to be back, says he made the flight as part of a navy recruiting program. Walker has a wife, Ramona and two sons, Steve 13, and Brian, seven, at home and he bought them all an assortment of gifts from the ports of call on his trip. "There's sure a lot to see and plenty to buy for the tourist," he concluded.

better living for all your family!

A modern home freezer is more than an appliance—it's a better way of life.

FREEZER LIVING means convenience—convenience of shopping, convenience of meal planning, convenience of meal preparations. Cook in quantity when you have the time, then freeze the extra portions for future enjoyment. Prepare complete meals and party refreshments in advance, to serve at your leisure. (And with lots of freezer storage space, you can shop less often.)

FREEZER LIVING means economy. Save by buying foods in quantity... take advantage of seasonal bargains... stock up on Freezer Food Specials... freeze leftovers and keep them till their appetite appeal is "like new" again.

FREEZER LIVING means better meals. Enjoy your favorite foods, frozen at the peak of goodness, all year 'round. Fresh fruits... fish... game—a freezer knows no season!

There's a modern freezer—upright or chest model—that's just right for your home and your family. Once you own a freezer you'll wonder how you lived without it.

SCHOLAR HONORS GO TO GRADS AT MT. MIGUEL HIGH SCHOOL

Mt. Miguel high school's first graduating class has five seniors who have accepted scholarships this week. They are announced by Mrs. Vela Gwin, senior counselor. Three of the recipients will go into engineering and two into teaching.

Judy Myers, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Myers, 88-63 Campo road, Spring Valley, has received a grant and an opportunity to compete in a state wide essay contest for $1000 from the California savings and loan league and will major in English at the University of California at Riverside. She will teach. She has been editor of the school paper and is interested in teaching journalism.

Gail Minnis, 18, will major in elementary education at San Diego state college with the help of the scholarship awarded her by the Lemon Grove woman's club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minnis, 3465 Helix street, Spring Valley.

Vernon L. Booth, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Booth, 3249 Central avenue, has received tuition and lab fees for four years at the college of his choice from Convair. He will major in engineering but has not decided which college he will attend. He has lettered in track and football.

Richard Cook, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Girswood, 2355 Sweetwater avenue, Spring Valley has received an NROTC scholarship covering tuition, books, and lab fees, and will attend Stanford university. He, too, will become an engineer. He was commissioner of athletics at Mt. Miguel and played football for the new school.

Robert Bunch, 17, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Bunch, 7360 Central avenue, Lemon Grove, won the Jessica Higbie medical arts scholarship award. He will attend San Diego state college and major in biochemistry.

San Miguel Group Honors Ex Leader

Mrs. John E. Egelstad, outgoing president of the San Miguel PTA, was guest of honor at a surprise luncheon last week at Michael's restaurant.

A corsage and gift were presented Mrs. Egelstad for her two years of leadership. Mrs. J. H. Jensen and Mrs. R. J. Collette were in charge of arrangements. Those present included John Egelstad, Ben Schei, Mmes. James Martin, Paul Louer, E. D. Klimek, Samuel Gaglian, F. W. Thompson, E. R. Schroeder, E. B. Ellison, Carl Haase and Harold Hensley.

Lutherans Confirm Youths On Sunday

There will be 18 young people confirmed at the Sunday service of the Lemon Grove Lutheran church.

Those to be confirmed include Dan Antell, Judy Antell, David Chell, Donna Ellis, Paul Estebo, Diane Fowler, Ronald Hendrickson, Marilyn Hoberg, Jack Hoobler, Sandra Hostetler, Joan Hummerstad, Scott Johnson, Jim Kiser, Leslie Killorn, Marcia Mann, Kathy Moe, Correne Paul and Barbara Ralston.

Sunday, June 8, the couple's club will have a reception for the confirmation class, welcoming them as members of the church.

CHURCH PICNIC SET
St. Philip's annual Sunday school and church picnic will be at Big Oaks ranch this Saturday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. There will be swimming, dancing and games. Everyone is welcome.

Scout News

MATAGUAY CAMP

As of May 23, there has been $189,617.65 collected toward the $658,947 goal to get Camp Mataguay under way, according to a report from Mataguay headquarters.

Wayne Hoyer, Lemon Grove attorney, has been selected as chairman of the LG-SV area for the Mataguay drive. The report stated Dr. P. Shea of Lemon Grove will head the professional team in the local drive and Gene Mercer of the US National Bank, in Lemon Grove, will head the commercial team.

The Grossmont district of the Boy Scouts have begun its Memorial gift solicitation. The District will launch its campaign on June 5, at a dinner meeting in the La Mesa youth center.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 171

Boy Scout troop 171 put on a Webelos advancement ceremony skit at the district round-table May 15. Scouts Nick Evers, Dick Jacobs, Bob Jump, Bill Norton, Bruce Smith, Dave Urbanac and senior patrol leader Steve Babby assisted Scoutmaster Pat Shannon.

The troop also marched in the All-out for Mataguay parade May 10. Marching with Scoutmaster Shannon and Assistant Scoutmaster Larry Armhurst were Scouts Nick Evers, Randy Wallin, Bob Jump, Dave Urbanac, Jack Elmore, John Robinson, Paul Brose, Skipper Beeman and Larry Armhurst.

A campout was held May 16-17 at Hual-Cu-Cuish. The day was spent in practicing second and first class advancements. The following scouts passed their tests: Mike Shannon, first class cooking and woodlore; Mike Evers, woodlore; Dave Urbanac, fire building and second class cooking; Randy Wallin, second class fire building and cooking, and observation; Jeff Blanchette, second class fire building, cooking and observation.

Dave Johnson, a new candidate, was installed in tenderfoot requirements; Skipper Beeman passed part of his map measuring tests; Don Lovas, fire building, second class cooking and observation; John Hanson, observation. Nick Evers, Patrol leader of the Buffalo Patrol, and Jack Elmore, Flaming Arrow Patrol leader, assisted by first class Scout, did a good job of teaching the Tenderfoot and second class Scouts.

Highlight of the campout was a "Native Hike," given by Ray

Hopkins, Scout ranger, who showed the Troop many items, usual in passing first class camping and woodlore.

Adult supervision was performed by Shannon, assistant Scoutmaster Dale Taylor, Les Bangle and committeeman Carl Urbanac.

Troop 171 has been awarded the Traffic Safety seal for active participation in the 1958-59 safety program.

These received additional merit badges: Jim Kemp, cooking, camping and weather; Keith James, athletics and community citizenship; Bill Waldren, camping and cooking.

Two new scouts have joined the troop; David Johnson and Jeff Landers.

Scout fair ticket sales are progressing and Troop 171 is making model bridges to display in booth 117 at the scout fair, June 6-7. A full-size rope walk bridge will also be displayed by Troop 171.

SENIOR WOMEN INSTALL

The Lemon Grove senior women's club installation of officers was conducted last Friday, May 23, at the women's clubhouse. An article and information about the installation will appear next week.

SV Student Wins Medal In Tennis

Jim Anderson, Spring Valley tennis player, and his partner Jerry Koppang of El Cajon, scored high in the junior college championship games at Visalia, Calif., May 15, 16 and 17. The two local men represented San Diego junior college.

In the doubles quarter finals the San Diego players defeated the favorites from the north; Watson and Watters of San Francisco city college, 7-5, 6-2.

Jim Anderson

In the semi-finals, however, the San Diegans lost to the state champions of Los Angeles city college, 6-3 and 6-3.

San Diego JC's Anderson and Koppang both reached semi-finals of the cancellation tournament in the singles. Anderson losing to Dany Marino of Long Beach City college, 7-5 and 6-4, while Koppang lost to Jim Harrada of Modesto in the other semi-final 7-5 and 6-3. Both San Diego players received bronze medals for their third awards.

Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. S. Anderson of Rosedale drive and husband of the former Kay Williams of Spring Valley and La Mesa. This young couple married early this year. They now live on Helix street and have started construction on their own home.
